WHERE TO DRINK LIKE A SAILOR

61 Strait Street

Not for the faint-hearted, as this is the reincarnation of a legendary Strait Street establishment. Head to this tiny, slightly grubby bar near midnight, when its dedicated clientele get going and don't stop until 4am. The dancing is raucous and signs pleading for quiet in the early hours are generally ignored. 'The Gut is back', the menu board reads. It's not wrong.

KNOW THIS Tico-Tico is dedicated to maintaining Strait Street's reputation as party central.
